TASC Canadian Wilderness Fishing Camps / TASC for Teens, Inc. welcomes only well-behaved campers who respect and follow the directions of camp staff and any other authority during the camp. Campers must be respectful to one another. We're not equipped to handle campers who cannot respect those in authority or campers with a history of mental health issues that prevent the child from being able to appropriately interact with his peers and follow directions. Alcoholic beverages, illegal drugs or related items, tobacco usage and gambling are prohibited. Shoplifting, theft, uncontrolled anger, profane or suggestive language / actions and disrespect for authority and/or camp rules are unacceptable behaviors. For safety purposes, we insist that campers not engage in any activity judged by the staff to be dangerous to themselves or others. If a camper does not follow these policies, TASC reserves the right to dismiss the camper from the camp without refund and demand that the parents immediately provide for his or her transportation home. Any property damage must be paid for in full by the parent of the camper who caused the damage before he leaves the camp. If damage is not discovered until after the camper leaves the camp, the parent of the camper is still responsible to pay for any damages in full. We strongly encourage campers to leave their IPODS, MP3 players and other personal electronic devices at home as they hinder social interaction among campers. Only pocket or filet knives stored inside the tackle box are allowed.

If any questions regarding camper's behavior are falsely answered, TASC has the right to dismiss the camper from the camp without refund and demand that the parents immediately provide for his transportation home. Does camper take prescribed medication? _____ Has camper ever been expelled or banned from any camp? _____ Has camper ever been expelled or suspended from school? _____ Is there any reason camper cannot respect and follow camp rules and directions of the camp staff? _____ Is there any reason camper cannot get along with other campers? _____ Has camper ever had emotional or mental health issues that would hinder him from following camp rules? _____ Has camper ever had an encounter with law enforcement? _____ If yes to any of these questions, give complete details on back of this form.

If any damage is not discovered until after the camper leaves the camp, the parent of the camper is still responsible to pay for any damages in full. We prefer no personal electronic devices. We really strongly encourage campers to leave their IPODS, MP3 players and other personal electronic devices at home as they hinder social interaction with other campers. They also detract from the wilderness atmosphere. Only pocket or filet knives stored inside the tackle box are allowed. Campers are not permitted to purchase any knives during the camp. If any questions regarding the camper's behavior are falsely answered on our camp registration form, TASC has the right to dismiss the camper from the camp without refund and demand that the parents immediately provide for his or her transportation home. Most of all, have fun fishing!

I give permission for TASC to use any photographs or video of my son or daughter taken while on the TASC Camp, for use as promotional material for future TASC Camps or other activities. I understand that I am personally responsible for payment of all hospital, doctor and medivac bills arising in the event of my child's illness or injury. TASC offers an optional travel insurance policy available at extra cost. Parent will be responsible for reimbursement of additional actual expenses if the trip is extended beyond the scheduled days because of circumstances that TASC cannot control.

I agree to abide by the policies of TASC Canadian Wilderness Fishing Camps / TASC for Teens, Inc. and to cooperate with the leadership of the trip for the benefit of all.
